

TAMMANY DECIDES TO RENAME HYLAN

Murphy Confers With Borough Leaders and None Other Is Considered.

The Tammany Hall executive committee will meet August 1 for the purpose of picking candidates for the coming municipal campaign. Unless there are unforeseen and extraordinary developments in the situation before that time the hall (steered as always by Charles Francis Murphy of Good Ground) will declare for John F. Hylan for reelection. Other boroughs are expected to swing into line openly at about the same time. Murphy has already had a conference—on Thursday to be exact—with leaders of the four borough annexes of Tammany, John H. McCoey of Brooklyn, Maurice E. Connolly of Queens, Arthur Murphy of The Bronx and Matthew Cahill of Richmond. There was talk at this time of possible candidates for Comptroller and President of the Board of Aldermen, but it is understood no decision was reached.

"It has been assumed you are to be the Democratic candidate for renomination," Mayor Hylan was told as he was walking out of the City Hall yesterday. "When are you going to announce yourself?"

"I have been so busy," he said with a broad smile, "I have had no time to make a statement, but in the immediate future I shall issue one concerning my intentions as to this fall."

It is assumed the Mayor has been waiting to get the final word to "shoot when you're ready" from Murphy and his borough lieutenants.

"Will Charles L. Craig be renominated for Comptroller?" is being asked by the "rank and file" Democrats. This question is agitating the minds of Murphy and his cabinet. Craig has recently shown a most disconcerting disposition to strew nails in the way of the Hylan chariot. He has given the Meyer legislative committee considerable information, and the understanding has been that he stood ready to furnish much more along the same line. What to do to stop this menace has been the subject of earnest discussion. Some years ago this would be easy. They could name the Comptroller for the Supreme Court; but unfortunately there will be no vacancies in the First district this year.

Craig some time ago declared flat-footedly he would never stand for Comptroller again on a ticket headed by Hylan. Tammany has been discussing whether they ought to try and persuade him to accept a renomination and trying to find out whether or not he would embarrass them by a cold refusal, if he should be approached directly on the subject.

There are those who say Craig has shown a disposition to take a renomination within the last week, but they can point to nothing definite on which to base this further than his general attitude and a report that several days ago he refused to give information on an admittedly anti-Hylan story.

David H. Knott, the present Sheriff, wants to be named for Comptroller, but Mr. Murphy is said to have turned down the suggestion. William H. Edwards would like the nomination. As an ex-collector of Internal Revenue he thinks he knows something about finance.

HELD AS A SUSPECT IN $12,000 GEM THEFT

Bartholomew Fond Arrested on Colombian's Charge.

Suspected of the theft of $12,000 worth of jewelry, Bartholomew Fond, 28, who lives at 127 West Ninetieth street, was arraigned before Magistrate Petherston in Tombs court yesterday and held in $20,000 bail for examination to-morrow.

Mario Rincon, 610 West 152d street, a native of Colombia, South America, the complainant, told the police that last Tuesday he took the jewelry, comprising several diamond rings and a necklace of diamonds, to downtown banks for the purpose of raising money. He met Fond, a friend, who said he could dispose of the jewelry. According to Rincon's story, Fond took the diamonds and disappeared. The police arrested Fond after watching the home of a young woman in Brooklyn. They said he had some of the jewelry in his possession.

CURRAN ADVOCATES FIGURE A MAJORITY

first choice of three more of the independent Democrats. Adding these would give Curran twenty-five, or a majority of the committee. This reckoning does not take into account Henry W. Taft, who, although a Manhattan man, declared at the Friday meeting he thought the logic of the situation demanded a Brooklyn man, so he was for Calder or Lockwood.

Curran advocates, however, believe he may be won over after consideration of the vote setting record of Curran. Each member of the committee will be asked to consider these facts:

In 1916, a Presidential year, when Tammany and the other borough democratic organizations were still in possession of their full strength and New York city was considered normally heavily Democratic, Curran made a remarkable run for the city wide office of President of the Board of Aldermen against Frank L. Dowling, probably the most popular candidate, outside of former Governor Smith, Tammany ever had. It was an off year municipally, it being a by-election to fill the place left vacant by the resignation of George McAneny. There was practically no anti-Tammany campaign.

Curran a Good Vote Getter.

Curran was within 33,742 votes of defeating Dowling. He actually carried Brooklyn by 6,357 votes, although Charles E. Hughes, the Republican candidate for President, lost it by some 6,000. Curran got 111,902 votes in Brooklyn, while Alfred E. Smith got only 110,000 votes in Brooklyn running for the same office, President of the Board of Aldermen, against Robert Adamson, the fusion candidate, the following year. In 1916 Curran split practically even with Dowling in Richmond, but lost in Queens by 4,387, in The Bronx by 9,997 and in Manhattan by 25,707. Two years ago Curran, running for his present office, President of the Borough of Manhattan, carried this borough by 8,114.

An unsigned statement was issued last night as coming from the "Independent Democratic members of the anti-Tammany conference" boasting Senator Lockwood because of his strength among the teachers and those interested in education generally. It was presumably sent out by the so-called Independent Democratic Conference group.

Miss Elizabeth Collier of Brooklyn sent her resignation from the coalition committee to Joseph M. Price, its chairman, yesterday. She was not a member of the steering committee of forty-seven. She said she did not want to be bound by the action of the steering committee, as she believed F. H. La Guardia, President of the Board of Aldermen, was the "strongest possibility" to head the Republican ticket and she expected to vote for him in the primaries.

Hirshfeld Is Led Astray.

Led astray by the publication in an afternoon paper yesterday of the platform adopted by the Price Coalition Committee and which it will recommend to the Republican-Coalition steering committee and believing erroneously that, as stated in the paper, it was the platform of the committee "which will select a candidate Monday to run against Mayor Hylan," David Hirshfeld, Mayor Hylan's faithful aid, issued a typical blast. In the form of a letter to Henry W. Taft, chairman of the steering committee, he accused the committee of stealing the Hylan thunder.

"There remains but one thing more for the Coalitionists to do," he declared, "and that is to endorse John F. Hylan for Mayor." If they named another candidate on that platform the voters would know it was for the purpose of deceiving voters and the candidate, if elected, would discard the platform.

"However," he wrote to Mr. Taft, "if I am mistaken in my contention and if the fusionists really do believe in a five cent fare, lower gas and electric and telephone rates, municipal ownership and operation of the rapid transit utilities and in municipally owned and operated ice plants and coal pockets, then the only man for you to elect to carry your banner in the coming campaign is John F. Hylan, and in that event you could disband and await serenely the realization of the good things that shall flow from your platform."

BROKER'S WIFE DENYING CHARGES, SEEKS DIVORCE

Mrs. Charlotte Catherine Mayo filed an answer yesterday to the divorce suit of Roy A. Mayo, broker, in which she denies all allegations of infidelity and counter claims a divorce in her favor. She alleges her husband was intimate with one Christy Eldler at various places between June and October, 1919; with a woman known only as Florence during 1920 and 1921, and with other unknown women at other times and places.

In defence of her husband's action she alleges he lived with her at 924 West End avenue subsequent to the times mentioned in his complaint, and thereby condoned whatever acts she may have committed. Her counsel demands a bill of particulars giving the full name of the "Pedro" person named by Mr. Mayo as correspondent. She also serves notice she will seek a jury trial.

DRY OUTLOOK HERE GLOOMY TO GLYNN

No Improvement Until Official Housecleaning.

No big improvement in the prohibition situation in New York State, from the point of view of the prohibitor, can be expected until Washington has authorized State Prohibition Director Hart to clean house thoroughly and until reliable and efficient men have been appointed agents, according to George A. Glynn, chairman of the Republican State Committee.

Mr. Glynn said yesterday that "prohibition has never had a fair chance, if thieves and bandits were to receive the encouragement of official collusion anything like that which bootleggers enjoy the violations would exceed the violations of prohibition."

Following Mr. Glynn's charges of a month ago, in which he stated that employees of the prohibition department were still active in the assistance of bootleggers, it was announced by Mr. Hart that the State chairman had been working with him in an effort to clear up the situation here, and that the Washington office had in mind a complete reorganization of the prohibition force.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR SACRAMENTAL WINES

Internal Revenue Bureau Heeds Church Pleas.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—New prohibition regulations covering the distribution of wines for religious purposes have been almost completed, it was said today at the Internal Revenue Bureau. The rules are designed to insure churches obtaining the same standard of sacramental wines to which they were accustomed before the ban was put on wholesale liquor dealers under an opinion by former Attorney-General Palmer.

Request was made at a recent hearing before the bureau that Attorney-General Daugherty review his predecessor's ruling so far as it applied to dealers in sacramental wines, as the churchmen contended they could not obtain their standard of quality from wholesale druggists.

The bureau takes the view that a request for a new ruling would reopen the entire question of wholesale liquor dealers, while regulations can be drafted with especial attention to importers which would accomplish the end sought without bringing the matter again before the Attorney-General.
